How Practical Motorhome choose the best motorhome for families.

When you’re touring with your family, you’ll want a ‘van that will give everyone a comfortable experience. As a result, when the practical motorhome team are picking the standout options on the market, they make sure they look for the things that will meet the needs of day-to-day on tour life. These include the space it gives you all, how easy the washroom and kitchen are to use, and the value for money it provides, amongst other things.

The practical motorhome team are in a good position to assess these things – between them, their expert team has decades of industry experience, and they've developed a good sense of what to look out for when picking out the best family motorhomes.

The Practical Motorhome Owner Satisfaction Awards also provide a useful insight into the experience their readers are having.

Combining this lets the team start to draw up a preliminary list of the 'vans that could be worth including, which they then whittle down to create a final shortlist.
